The CRIO Papers publishing series was founded in 2009, among the various initiatives promoted by the CRIO (Centre of Research on International Organizations) a research program created by the International Law Chair at the University of Catania Law School to offer Law & Social Sciences students and young lawyers and scholars a focused insight into the world of International Institutions and Transnational Civil Society.

Based on an interdisciplinary approach, CRIO aims at promoting research and academic events, such as workshops and seminars, teaching and training programs in an interactive environment, working as a venue for international meetings, and sessions.

CRIO promotes independent Studies, Research and Review Papers, devoting special attention to international and transnational issues and to actors operating in the broad Mediterranean area.

The CRIO Papers series aims at giving visibility to CRIO research papers, to disseminate them, and to ensure their proper recall, the right authorship attribution and their long-term preservation. PhD students of the Department, visiting researchers and the scientific partners involved in the research project Law and Social Sciences Research Training Program are also entitled to publish in the series.

The series has been endowed with the ISSN 2037-6006. Working papers are available in electronic format on the University of Catania Department of Laws website <http://www.lex.unict.it/it/crio/series-collection> in order to be disseminated as widely as possible.

The General Editor of the series is professor Rosario Sapienza, full professor of International Law at the School of Laws, University of Catania. Members of the Editorial Staff currently serving are Federica Antonietta Gentile, Gemma Halliday, Giuseppe Matarazzo, Elisabetta Mottese, Maria Manuela Pappalardo, Giuliana Quattrocchi. The Graphic Project was conceived and developed by Ena Granulo.
