

Call for contribution to the 1st Agrinatura conference to be held in Cork, Ireland 18th May 2022

We would like to invite you to participate in the 1st Agrinatura Conference during this year General Assembly at the University Colleague Cork, Ireland.

This conference will be a half-day event as a part of the General Assembly meeting, with the aim to engage and showcase the work of member institutions. This conference is free of charge and the only requirement is Membership of Agrinatura.

On behalf of the Agrinatura Research Working Group, we would like to invite you to submit your research topic, abstract, project activity or the result of your research based on the following topics below to the respective chair of the session.

The conference will take place in two sections and each section in two breakout rooms. Therefore, you can even participate in two sections!

Please submit your contribution till April 15th 2022.

Topics:

- Climate change research for agricultural development

(chair: Frédéric Francis, frederic.francis@uliege.be)

- Food system transformation through Research intervention

(chair: Susanna Rokka, susanna.rokka@luke.fi)

- Agroecology and biodiversity aspects in the EU Green Deal

(chair: Miguel de Porras, miguel.deporras@fibl.org)

- The Youths and knowledge sharing for Rural development

(chair: Ludovic Andres, l.andres@istom.fr)

